

WORKING SOULS:
ORTHODOXY AND THE PROBLEM OF RELIGIOUS IDENTITY
IN REVOLUTIONARY ST. PETERSBURG 1870–1917

Page Herrlinger

SUMMARY OF CONTENTS

List of Illustrations

From the Series Editor

Acknowledgments

Abbreviations

Introduction

Chapter One

Going to the People, with God: The Orthodox Mission to the Workers of St. Petersburg, 1881–1905

Chapter Two

Icons on the Factory Floor: Traditional Orthodox Ritual and the Modern Rhythms of Urban Factory Life

Chapter Three

What to Believe or Not to Believe: Worker Conversion Stories and the Politics of Religious Identity

Chapter Four

Bearing the Cross of the Working Class: The Orthodox and the Labor Question in Revolutionary St.
Petersburg, 1896–1907

Chapter Five

Moral Protest and Revolutions of the Spirit in Working Class Life, 1905–17

Conclusion

Bibliography

Index