

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments

Olga Mesropova

Of Tears and Laughter: Humor and Satire in Post-Soviet Russia
Humor and Satire in Literature

Karen Ryan

Vladimir Voinovich and Soviet/Émigré/Post-Soviet Satire:
A Case Study

David Gillespie

Through the “I” of the Narrator:
Evgeny Popov and the Satire of Collapse

Alexei Pavlenko

Onwards and Upwards: Senchin’s Satiric “I”
Humor and Satire in Animation and Anekdot

José Alaniz

New Komiks for the New Russians

Emil Draitser

The Rise and Fall of the Jokeloric New Russians
Humor and Satire in Film and Television

Alexander Prokhorov

Debunking Myths Old and New: Iurii Mamin’s Satires in Soviet and Post-Soviet Cinema

Birgit Beumers

The Peculiarities of Russian National Cinema in the Rogozhkin Period

Jane Taubman

Kira Muratova’s Eccentric Cinema

Elena Baraban

A Reconciling Smile:
Humor in the Detective Series Streets of Broken Lights

Elena Prokhorova

How I Learned to Stop Worrying and Love the USSR: History, Irony, and Nostalgia in Leonid Parfenov’s TV Project Namedni: 1961–1991

Alexander Kozintsev

Kukly: Rage and Jest
Humor and Satire in Music and Performance

Anthony Qualin

Striking Crude Chords: Bawdy Humor in Post-Soviet Russian Rock

Olga Mesropova

Private Space on the Public Stage:
Marriage in Russian Stand-Up Comedy of the 1990s

Seth Graham

Afterword

Bibliography